TREE FREE PAPER

This 100% recycled cotton paper is made by artisans in Rajasthan, India, following a generations old process, using discarded cotton scraps from the textile industry. Cotton is broken down into fibers using a traditional wheel press and then soaked. The resulting pulp is strained, pressed into pages and hung to dry. The entire process is tree-free, non-toxic, and conserves and filters water for reuse in irrigation. Fair Trade, Sustainable, Handmade, Compostable, Recycled/Upcycled. Our choice for you...

GRENADE IN

October:

not more than
a $^{\circ}$ degree change
in temperature,
but a shift-ton
of rain.

Apparently, F-A
only 270 mm,

and the rest of
the year?

Avg 203mm.

(I like how the
